GRAMMAR (SLOVNICA)

1 Insert the correct form of the verbs in brackets.

Reporter: Here I am with PI Chloe Burke who ¹has taken (take) a few minutes of her time to speak to us. Hello Miss Burke. To start with, let me ask you how come you ² _____ (decide) to become a private investigator?

PI Burke: Well, I blame my uncle for that, really. It was he who ³ _____ (give) me a book by Agatha Christie for my 12th birthday. It ⁴ _____ (feature) Hercule Poirot as the main character. As soon as I started reading it, I ⁵ _____ (become) addicted to detective stories. I ⁶ _____ (dream) of becoming as famous as Poirot ever since.

Reporter: Are your cases as interesting as Poirot's?

PI Burke: I can't say they're as interesting as his, but they're quite exciting. My work never ⁷ _____ (get) boring. My clients ⁸ _____ (have) all sorts of requests and each case is different. I ⁹ _____ (admit) it can be quite hard at times, but I have to stay professional and can't show my feelings although I feel like crying sometimes.

Reporter: ¹⁰ _____ (you / remember) your first case?

PI Burke: Of course I do. You never forget the first one. It was ten years ago. A man 11 _____ (contact) me. He 12 _____ (try) to find his old girlfriend who had moved to another town some years before. He had tried everything to find her. He had even put an ad in the papers but there was no reply. Fortunately, I was luckier and 13 _____ (manage) to find her. They got married. They 14 _____
(send) me a thank you note every year.

Reporter: But not all cases end so happily, do they?

PI Burke: No, they don't. Some 15 _____ (not have) such a happy ending. But you need to learn to live with that.

Reporter: One last question. What 16 _____ (you / recommend) to kids who would like to become private investigators?

PI Burke: Well, the most important thing is to be very observant and have an inquisitive mind.
Always 17 _____ (ask) questions, 18 _____ (not be) satisfied with the answers people give you. And last but not least, trust your intuition.

Reporter: That's great advice. Thanks for your time and good luck with your work.
